The Mayor Interviewed.

Our reporter waited on Mayor W. J. Botterill on Monday and asked him if he would consent to another term in the Mayor's chair.

"No," said his worship, "I am sorry to say business relations prevent me again being a candidate for the Mayoralty chair. I reluctantly arrived at this conclusion some weeks ago, when many customers of ours made complaints to me that they felt I was absent too much from my office, and as our business is such that 99 per cent of our business is with the farmers I cannot see how I can again assent to the many requests of friends and business associates, who tell me I am entitled to a second term. Still, I must first put the interests of my family and business partner, and this I cannot do and give the time necessary to carry out the wishes of the Council and attend to the many things arising from time to time."

"But you have Commissioner Stephenson to help you," suggested the scribe.

"I must admit," said Mr. Botterill, "were it not for the very hearty assistance of Commissioner Stephenson the Mayor would have to devote pretty near the whole of his time to the town. I consider Mr. Stephenson a most capable, thorough and experienced municipal man, and I sincerely hope that nothing will arise which will cause him to sever his connection with the town. His four years' experience as Councilor, together with his keen business qualifications, have made him an ideal man for the position he holds."

"I feel I am retiring from municipal affairs with the utmost confidence of the Council and the large majority of the ratepayers. I have endeavored to do my best, acting at all times in the interests of the public. There is no particular reason why I should remain another term. The work is all well cleaned up, the finances of the Town were never in better shape, and every department is in first class order. The matter in dispute between the Western General and the Town is in the hands of the court so to speak, and I will be available as a witness should I be required. So taking all things into consideration, I think I am retiring with a clear sheet. This ends the fifth year that I have been on the Council. I therefore feel that I have done my share, in my own humble way, of carrying the responsibilities of good citizenship. I sincerely trust a good responsible man will offer himself as Mayor because such a man is required. There will be no doubt many propositions made next year from the different railway companies who are headed this way, then is when we want a level head. We also want strong municipal ownership men at the head of our affairs for the next few years, because if our Town grows as we expect it to grow from now on, tempting offers by charter mongers will be made. Then is the time that our Mayor and Councilors are put to the test, as experience in the past has shown. There is nothing that will conduce to the advancement of a town or city than the owning of all her own utilities. In after years should the ratepayers want me to serve them on the Council, I will be pleased to do so for I like the work, but for the next few years I must devote my whole time to my own business."

Presentation.

Mr. C. J. B. Ward having resigned his position as Secretary Treasurer of the Red Deer Buttery Association, the directors of the above company met at the creamery on October 26th to accept his resignation, and to render to him a memento of their appreciation of his work for the association.

Mr. Ward has been connected with the Red Deer creamery ever since its formation, being one of the original board of directors, and, in fact, is one of the pioneers of the dairy industry in this district. He has helped to fight the battles of the association, and has borne no small share of the responsibilities connected with a company of this kind. But he has the satisfaction of having seen it rise, from a very secondary position, to one of the foremost creameries in output and the best in equipment.

The President, Mr. E. Carswell, in presenting the gift—a solid gold watch and chain—said that within the case there was engraved a word which conveyed the full depth of their appreciation of Mr. Ward's services—that word was "For Faithfulness." He then gave a short resume of the history of the creamery and lauded Mr. Ward for his untiring assistance. In closing he wished Mr. Ward God speed to his new home and trusted that wherever he went his watch would remind him of Red Deer and the association.

Mr. Marker, the Dairy Commissioner, who had stopped off from the morning train, also spoke his appreciation of the earnest efforts of the retiring secretary and tendered to Mr. Ward, on behalf of the Department of Agriculture, a sincere thanks for his services.

Mr. Ward will leave for his new home on Vancouver Island about the middle of November, where he intends going into light farming, and will no doubt carry with him the very best wishes of his hosts of friends in this district.

C. E. Hall's Improvements.

The past week has seen great improvements in the cash store of C. E. Hall, our enterprising dry goods man. A gallery has been built all around the interior of the store, increasing the floor space by about one thousand feet, and the store is now one of the best and most complete establishments in the west. A great variety of articles are on exhibition in the galleries, and the general public are invited to give Mr. Hall a call and inspect his new goods whether you buy or not.

A New Industry.

L. M. Gaetz & Co. is the firm name of a new company launching out on the broad field of western industrial enterprise. The company started operations this week in the flat over L. M. Gaetz' store, and they are manufacturing overalls. The Company start out with several hands, and expect to have forty hands hard at work before a year has passed. They propose making an article second to none on the market and superior to most overalls now found in the stores. They are already assured of a large business, as they will have several travellers on the road, who will make a specialty of these goods. They will be able to not only sell a better article but will be able to sell it at as reasonable a price as eastern houses. L. M. Gaetz will be business manager of the Company, and we commend the business enterprise of our young townsman and bespeak for him the patronage of the people of the west. We wish the Company all success.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

PAINTS & VARNISHES

The first thing to know about paints and varnishes is that house paint will not do for freight cars and that piano varnish will not do for floors. This is true of all surfaces—each requires a different treatment. You can no more get good results from a finish made for all surfaces than you can be cured of all diseases with one medicine—beware of the paint or varnish that is recommended for all kinds of purposes. Your problem is to find the paint or varnish best suited to the surface you wish to cover. The Sherwin-Williams Co. have worked out this problem for everyone—for every surface. The right quality in their products protects and beautifies longest the surface for which each is intended. This right quality has made them the largest manufacturers of paints and varnishes in the world.

We sell a full line of Sherwin-Williams Products.

THE CHAMELEON.

This Curious Animal is Like Two Half Creatures joined.

The chameleon is not allied closely to any other animal. It stands as a genus by itself. The nervous centers in one lateral half operate independently of those in the other. This seems outrageous, and it is, but it is true. The chameleon has two lateral centers of perception of sensation and of motion. There exists also a third center—that common to both sides—that adds the power of concentration by means of which the two sides of the creature may be forced to work in harmony with each other. But this center of concentration does not always dominate the situation. Notwithstanding the strictly symmetrical structure of the animal's two halves, the eyes move quite independently, and they convey distinct and separate impressions to their respective centers of perception. As at the eye, so at the other members—each reports to and is controlled by its own center.

The result is that when the faculty of concentration becomes distributed everything is jumbled. Let the chameleon be much agitated and its movements grow erratic. They are those of two creatures fastened together, or rather, of two half creatures joined. Each half exhibits its intention of going its separate way. The result is a pitiable confusion of motion. No white, no concordance of action. A curious example of the chameleon's helplessness when unduly excited is found in the fact that it cannot swim. The shock of being plunged into water upsets the poise of its faculty for striking out. Forthwith each side strikes out wildly for itself, to its own undoing. The chameleon is the only four-legged vertebrate that cannot swim.

When the creature is calm every impulse to motion is referred to the common center of concentration, and the entire organism acts in fitting accord with the commands issued by that faculty. Thus, while totally different impressions from the two eyes are transmitted from their centers to the common one, that concentrating power decides as to which scene is the more important and then directs the eye otherwise engaged also to regard it. The same principle applies in the control of all the members—so long as the animal remains unexcited. Any observer may easily verify the existence of this dual nature in a superficial way by some experiments with a sleeping chameleon. A touch on one side of the animal will wake that side up, while the other side sleeps calmly on.

FLINT AND TINDER.

Making Fire in the Days Before We Had Matches.

A friend of mine of just my age used to laugh about his own boyhood and tell the story of his mother shaking him in bed and bidding him put on his boots when he dressed and his overcoat and wedge through the snow to the next neighbor's to get a pair of hot coals with which to make the fire. I suppose Joe's mother had lost her flint. We kept our flint and what was called "steel" in a round tin, such as you would find a quart of strawberries now, and it was on the mantelpiece in the kitchen. It was half flint and half steel. The boys and girls of today do not know what tinder is or was.

Now, whoever was in the kitchen in the morning and found that the last bit of coal of the wood fire had gone out took down the tinder box and struck the steel with the flint smartly and of a sudden a red-hot spark fell on the tinder; then very carefully she blew with her breath on any flakes of the tinder which had lighted until she had quite a little core of lighted tinder. Then she took what we called a brimstone match and put that very carefully in the little hot hole. If all things worked well, the brimstone lighted and the wood of the match lighted, which made a part of the tinder box. Oh, dear! There were thousands of tinder boxes in little Boston the day I was born, and a few years ago I tried to buy one as a curiosity, and I could not find one in any of the junkshops. In those days old women would stop at the door and ask you to buy some bundles of matches. They had made these themselves of pine wood four inches long, which they had dipped in hot brimstone at both ends. And those were the only matches that anybody ever heard of—Woman's Home Companion.

Always Dressed the 14th. Most dismal of all men of the stage was Grimaldi, the clown, and his father fathered him. He had that curious dread of the 14th of January as many. The elder Grimaldi hated the 14th of the month, and when it was passed he regarded himself as safe until the next. He was born, christened and married on the 14th of the month, and being discontented with all three events, we will hope his death on March 14, 1788, satisfied him.—London Tatler.

Cutting Humor. With cap and bells jangling, he burst into the king's presence. "Have you heard my last joke, your majesty?" "I have," was the reply as the royal ax descended on the neck of the court jester.—Life.

Realism. The Author—Well, how did you like my play? The Critic—Oh, it was very realistic. The Author—Did the third act, the church scene realistic? The Critic—Intensely so. Why, a great many of us actually went to sleep while it was on.—Cleveland Leader.

23 Cows or 60, Which?

Some of the September records received from members of our feeding associations show further remarkable variations in different sections of Ontario and Quebec. It is the exception in the Ontario associations to find less than 600 lb. milk or 20 lb. butterfat average yield for the thirty days. In Quebec associations the average yields are almost all lower, though one or two are well up, even to 700 lb. milk and 20 lb. fat. One association in Quebec has a total production from 23 cows of 17,800 lb. milk and 775 lb. fat, while in another Quebec association just a little less than that is the total production of 60 cows; the 60 cows average less than 300 lb. milk. Twenty-three cows in one case, sixty in the other, which kind of cow would one rather keep? What glowing possibilities are indicated here! Most likely the 60 cows could be made to give better yields if fed better. The selection of the best individuals as revealed by the records, and their mating with good bulls of decided dairy descent, would give certain results, better cows in every way, without such glaring differences as in this case where the yield of two fairly good cows is more than the total yield of five poor ones.

Canadian Pacific Superintendent Resigns.

Calgary, Oct. 26.—Supt. J. Niblock, of the C.P.R., superintendent of the Calgary division, is retiring from the service Nov. 1, after 35 years of railroad work, 30 years of which he spent in the west. He has been in Calgary as district superintendent since 1896, having come here when headquarters were removed from Medicine Hat.

C. S. Maharg, now superintendent at Medicine Hat, will take the place vacated by Mr. Niblock's retirement. J. J. Taylor, at present superintendent at Moose Jaw, will take Maharg's place at Medicine Hat, and W. J. Uren, superintendent at Brandon, will be moved to Moose Jaw. General superintendent Peter, speaking of Niblock's retirement, states that in the retiring of Niblock the C.P.R. will lose one of the best informed and most practical railroad men. Mr. Niblock is one of the most widely known and popular men in the C. P. R. service in the west.

During his years in Calgary he has been actively connected with church and Y.M.C.A. work. He will leave the city to take up his residence in the west, on his fruit ranch in British Columbia.

Bermondsey Goes against the Budget

London, Oct. 26.—The following is the result of Bermondsey by election: Humphreys (C.), 4278; Hughes (Lib.), 3291; Salter (Soc.), 1435. The Radical press on the other hand, while admitting "it might have been better," profess satisfaction that the figures show a majority for the budget and free trade.

THE MAYORALTY.

In has always been a principle where a Mayor has given good service to a town in the west to offer him a second term.
Our reporter waited on Mayor Botterill Monday and asked for an interview on the question of a second term, which appears in another column.

While we can see the forces of his objection to a certain extent, still we feel it would be unfortunate for Red Deer to lose the valuable services of Mayor Botterill at the present time.

We are strongly in favor of urging him to accept another term at last.

It is admitted on all sides that he has made an excellent executive head of the Council. All work is finished up to date. Never has the town been in better shape, and we urge that at this point in our history it would be unfortunate to lose the services of a man so thoroughly up in the detailed work of the town.

The commission idea has grown and prospered under his help until not only the whole of Alberta but far afield in Canada the idea has taken root and is gaining adher-ents.

We feel it the duty of all citizens to sink to a large extent personal motives and give their services to the community in which they reside if called upon to do so.

We sincerely hope Mayor Botterill will yet see his way clear to accept a second term, as we feel that he would be returned without a contest should he consent to stand.

TELEPHONE MATTERS.

"You can tell the people," said Mr. Carlyle Moore, "that as soon as the present action of the town against the Co. is determined, and the validity of the Company's franchise is established, that a material reduction in the phone rates will be made."

The above appeared in the Advocate last week.

What a pity the Company did not see light a little sooner.

What a pity the Company had not horse sense enough to follow the advice of the News, and make their increase of rates moderate in the first place and maintain the good will of the citizens.

The validity of the Company's franchise has never been disputed so far as we are aware of by the Town.

Prominent citizens were denied their just rights, coolly, calmly, and with the greatest determination after the consequences were pointed out to the Company.
The Company will now have to suffer the consequences.

THE BULLETIN

INCONSISTENT.

The Edmonton Bulletin remarks that the elections in B. C. are brought on with "suspicious haste." It says:

"A Government which wishes to continue in power with the support of people who know what they are voting for does not usually call on an election so quickly that the people have no opportunity of becoming acquainted with the great issue in the campaign. The suddenness with which this election is springing suggests that the Mc-Bride Government does not want the people to understand what they are voting on. If not, why not? Whatever the good points of the bargain, this pertinent and inconvenient question must project itself into the campaign.
Public suspicion must necessarily attach to a bargain whose promoters say so much of it, but on which it does not seem to them advisable to allow the people to do much thinking."

What a difference to the stand taken last spring. Then the Bulletin said the quicker the elections are over the better there was no condemning the government of Alberta for springing the elections on the people on the shortest possible notice.
There was no criticizing the railway policy, or the guaranteeing of the railway bonds, although these questions were rushed through the assembly in its dying hours and the elections were brought on at a moment's notice, although it was not necessary to hold them until this fall.

The McBride government of B.C. are doing just what the Rutherford government did last spring. The Bulletin censures a Conservative government for doing precisely what it upheld a Liberal government for doing. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

Hon. William Jennings Bryan, speaking before the Canadian Club at Lethbridge, said in his reference to education:
He was a believer in the school, he stated. If he knew that his son would be engaged only in physical manual labor during his life he would give him the best education that could possibly be got. He would then have a trained intellect to guide the hand and the companionship of his own mind when not at work. He would have a store of the facts and accomplishments of the past and from them be able to estimate the things that would be.
He would be able to use that better mind to secure reasonable compensation for himself and those who toil with their hands.

Says the Orillia Packet:— A North Waterloo correspondent of the Toronto Star proudly boasts that since his return from abroad the Hon. Mackenzie King "has spent all his spare time in the riding, attending picnics, socials, family gatherings, etc., accepting as far as possible all invitations." There has probably been no such exhibition of the higher order of statesmanship since Sir William Mulock canvassed the side-roads of Mara and Rama for Mr. George D. Grant, in a cast-off overcoat with an end of tarred rope tied round his waist.

BUSINESS METHODS.

The Value of Imagination as an Industrial Asset.
Let us assume that tomorrow you decide to embark in the business of manufacturing a toilet soap to compete with some of the well known makers. It is important that it should have a significant or attractive name.
But, right at the outset, you discover that it is almost impossible to secure any satisfactory name for a new soap.
Its color, transparency and clearness suggest the title of "amber soap." Yes, surely, "amber soap" does have an attractive sound. But you cannot use the word "amber," for you find that this is one of a list of twenty-four possible names for a toilet soap employed by registration as a protectionary measure years ago by one of the leading American soap makers.
They have covered over a hundred names in the past quarter of a century, willingly paying the registration charges of $25 for every title. Of course they do not mind using them.
They register them to fight off competition, believing (and here is the important point) that no clever business man would embark in the enterprise of manufacturing a new soap when from the start he was prevented from employing the powerful weapon of imagination in giving it a unique name. If an establishment like this, directed by some of the ablest heads in the business world, believes that it can discourage competition by simply depriving the would be competitor of the appeal to the imagination in the naming of his soap, how great a value must we attach to imagination in business?—Loria F. Deland in Atlantic.

TRAPPING RABBITS.

The Australian Method of Dealing With the Pests.

Rabbits are the greatest pest the Australian pastoralist has to contend against. If these roving pests are allotted on a station property, they do enormous damage to the grass, but the pest is kept down to the lowest possible limit in every district of the commonwealth at great cost.

The most effective method of dealing with them is hereafter explained.
In summer when any rabbit might have been lying about has been dried up by evaporation and the grass has become dry, rabbits swarm toward the tanks, dams or other water holes that have been sunk for stock drinking purposes.

Fantastic take advantage of this,
and every evening after the cattle have partaken of their last drink a strip of wire netting is run around the tank or dam.

Outside this netting fence holes are dug in the ground and filled with poisoned water, and these in turn are inclosed by another strand of netting, pegged down to within a few inches of the ground, being sheep proof, but allowing plenty of room for rabbits to get under.

The rabbits make for the dam; but, as their way is barred, they drink at the poisoned holes, with to them disastrous results.

In the morning are to be seen hundreds and thousands of dead rabbits scattered about the country.—Melbourne News.

An African and a Box Constructor.
At Metz, Germany, lived a native who, like all those belonging to the tribe of the Waluguru, regarded snake flesh as an especial delicacy.
One day a huge box constructor bring in the middle of a field. He confided the discovery to one or two others and arranged with them to kill it during the hours of darkness, so that they might enjoy the delicacy together. Toward nightfall the man, armed with a stick, attacked the huge serpent. The box constructor, aroused from its apparent torpor, suddenly seized the unhappy negro and slowly crushed him to pulp and then gradually swallowed him.

Tactless.

"When Clumber gets arguing he loses all tact."

"As for instance?"

"Why, last night he told an opponent who is lame that he hadn't a leg to stand on, and another who squints that he was sorry he couldn't see things as he did, and a man who stammered he urged not to hesitate in expressing an opinion."—Stray Stories.

Color Blindness.

Forty men and four women in a thousand are either wholly unable to perceive certain colors or can recognize them only with difficulty. All attempts to overcome color blindness by educating the color have failed.
There are three theories of color vision, all of which are based on the workings of the sensitive fibrils of the inner eye.

Odessa's Working Days.

The local labor day at Odessa, Russia, is twelve hours, with two hours for rest. Workers less than seventeen years old must go to school for three hours daily. Christians are not required to work Sundays or feast days nor Jews and Mohammedans on their holidays. Those who have to work on Sundays have the next day for rest.

"FACING THE MUSIC."

A Packed House and Delighted Audience Greeted the Dramatic Society.

A First Class Performance was the General Verdict.

When the curtain dropped and Miss Youmans, the pianist, played the National Anthem at the close of the farcical comedy "Facing the Music," at the Lyric, Thursday evening last, one of the most tired and yet pleased audiences that ever visited a performance in Red Deer wended its way homeward—tired of laughing at the many com-icously exaggerated funny situations during the play, and pleased at the excellent manner in which the participants in the comedy acquitted themselves.

At the rise of the curtain a burst of applause greeted the dainty and well appointed stage settings, which were probably the best ever seen in town.

The fittings were kindly loaned by the mechanics of the town, and stage manager J. W. Hey, and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gaetz worked hard Thursday putting the artistic finish to the apartments.

The play is confined to a flat in Mona Mansions, Kensington, at the present time, and we venture to say a more comic and laughable comedy with exorcisingly funny situations was never written.

There are two John Smiths, one the curate of St. Andrew's, the other a racing man. Both their wives are away, and, during their absence, they each rent a flat in Mona Mansions. Mabel, the curate's wife, arrives home late and gets into the wrong flat.
John Smith, the racing man, whose wife is not due for a week, lays out all night, having got mixed up with an actress and a couple of foot pads, losing his pocket-book containing $200.

When he arrives home, he is told by Dick Desmond, his friend, that his wife has arrived. The actress calls to return pocketbook, and gives it to the curate's wife, thinking she is the wife of the other Mr. Smith. Complications follow, and the racing man the other Mr. Smith lies in a wholesale manner, everything being eventually explained to the satisfaction of all concerned, but during the entire play the other Mr.
Smith, in the person of J. W.
Hey, had a hot old time, and he took his part to perfection, and was certainly the star performer of the evening. But where all did so well it is hard to specialize, there not being a weak place in the entire play. R. D. Currie, as Rev. John Smith, the curate, took his part to perfection, and
L. M. Gaetz as Dick Desmond, the sporting gent, bluff and fond of a joke, was irrepressible.
Miss Christie, as Miss Fothering-gay of the Bijou theatre, who took her part extremely well, impressed one as having had considerable experience on the stage, but when it is known this was her first appearance, she is to be congratulated on her success.

The same might be said of Miss E. L. Edmond, who took the part of the other Mr. Smith's wife. She showed animation, decision and a positiveness most refreshing. J. J. Mann, as Serg.
Duffell, attached to the Vine Street Police Station, was a very officious individual, and created considerable amusement by his superior knowledge of everything going on. The part was rather difficult and was well taken. Miss Florence Colman was conspicuous as the wife of the Rev. John Smith. She always takes her part well in plays of this sort, and Thursday evening was no exception to the rule. Mrs. W. A.
Cassels, as M. P. Fothering-gay, created amusement whenever she appeared. She is a favourite with a Red Deer audience. Col. Duncan Smith, uncle of the other Mr. Smith, who was an old war veteran, and was on a visit to the war office, and who showed a fondness for whiskey and soda, was most ably taken by Geo. W. Greene. Mr. Greene has never figured in theatrical before, but he certainly took his part well, and added greatly to the success of the entertainment.

Owing to the illness of Mrs.
Gibson, W. L. Gibson, the business manager, was not present.
Miss Youmans presided at the piano in a most acceptable manner.

Mr. Hey, who had the entire performance under his charge, is to be congratulated on the excellent result, not only from the standpoint of merit but from a financial point of view, as well over $200 was realized by the performance.

We hope the entertainment will be repeated at an early date, as it seems altogether too much trouble to go to for one evening's entertainment.

Celebrating The Anniversary of Our Having Moved Into Our Present Premises, and adding New Departments.

On November 9th, 1908, we moved into our present premises, and very many prophesied our failure, a few being good enough to give us six months, the adverse conditions being the location of the store, and the general business conditions. HOWEVER, we were not discouraged or disheartened, and we have shown beyond the shadow of a doubt that it IS POSSIBLE TO DO BUSINESS IN RED DEER, even in a stand that is considered "a little out of the way."

ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH, the anniversary of the opening of this departmental store, we will show Our Appreciation of the loyal support you have given by refunding to you twenty cents (20c.) on every dollar ($1.00) you spend in any department in this store excepting the grocery department, and to the lady of the house we will present an "Easy Dustpan" FREE OF CHARGE with the compliments of W. E. LORD.

REFUND OF 20C. ON EVERY $1.00 YOU SPEND.
ON ABOVE DATE, in all departments except grocery department. ALL STOCK IS ALWAYS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES, AND WE HAVE ONLY ONE PRICE.

All Special Prices as advertised will apply, and you get the REFUND ON ALL SPECIALS.

IT MEANS A LOT TO YOU, AS WELL AS TO OURSELVES, although it does not really amount to much with us when we charge it against the year's business.

SAVE YOUR CASH FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH. It should be the Biggest Cash-Sale Day in the history of the business, and we hope YOU will take full advantage of it.

For Instance:—

If You Spend $10.00 we will refund $2.00 CASH
If You Spend 25.00 we will refund 5.00 CASH
If You Spend 50.00 we will refund 10.00 CASH
If You Spend 100.00 we will refund 20.00 CASH

DRESS GOODS and SILKS

are more complete in range and variety in this store than anywhere between Calgary and the Capital. Variety is the keynote; the texture and color effects are correct, while the values are particularly good.

(SEE OUR AD' in last week's Advocate for prices)

Flannelettes and All Kinds of Staples are here in abundance. We were particularly fortunate in our purchase of Fall Goods, and we are pleased to submit our values to the most critical inspection. Personally, we never make comparisons with lines or stocks carried elsewhere, but if you are skeptical about the values we offer, we are pleased to have you do so for your own satisfaction. SEE OUR BIG AD. for these prices also.

SMALLWARES.

We have the most complete assortment of Smallwares ever shown in Alberta, and you must know OUR PRICES, for they have been freely advertised. These prices are for first quality goods—No Seconds—We don't buy Seconds to make an attractive price. Our Goods are absolutely reliable, and we are here with the money, and ready to refund it to any person who should get an article from us which is not as represented, or has not proven satisfactory in every respect.

Boots and Shoes, Felts and Rubbers, Overshoes.

Here is where we sell goods faster than we get them. This, of course, is impossible, but we have found it impossible to get the stock forward fast enough to supply the demand in leather goods. We believe that we are fully protected in leather goods for future requirements.

In Fine Shoes, FELTS, RUBBERS, OVERSHOES, and GUM RUBBERS, we have the goods right in stock, and we might say, right here, that our Rubbers ARE NOT SECOND GRADE, while our prices compare favorably with the prices asked for second grade goods.

Dinnerware, Crockery, Glassware,

Of which we have opened a great many new lines this week, is included in the Departments to which the refund applies.

Toys, Candles and all sorts of Fancy Goods are included. In fact, there is nothing barred from this CASH REFUND OFFER excepting goods in the Grocery Department. The stock in this Department will be sold as usual at our low prices, as advertised.

REFUND of 20c. on every dollar you spend, as above, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH.

GENERAL RULES

The Trustees shall have full power to carry on the work of the Association. Each subscriber must be bound by an agreement to become a member of the Association for the payment of such funds, except in such cases as are hereinafter provided for, and to obtain these funds money may be borrowed by the Directors on the security of the agreement given by the members.

Any member who is unable to pay the ordinary working expenses of the Association, including the cost of storage, or losses arising from produce shipped, collecting the proceeds of shipments, or any unforeseen cause.

Whenever in the opinion of the Directors or Trustees it is desirable that any expenditure should be made for the purpose of the Association, the Association may, by a majority vote, authorize the directors or trustees to incur such expenditure in such manner or form as they may deem best and for this purpose they may borrow money or pledge or hypothecate securities of the Association to meet the expenditure therefor.

Where any loss is incurred by any accident or any uncontrollable circumstance in connection with the Association, such loss shall be borne by the Association, each member contributing at the end of the six months period, one per cent of that loss per rata, according to the value of the produce listed and handled for the Association, and in accordance with the provisions of these rules concerning such matters.

The Directors may, at any meeting, suspend or suspend the payment of any member from the Association on the ground of fraud or deception on the part of the shipper, then the loss shall be borne by himself alone in addition to the ordinary working expenses of the Association may be put to.

If, after produce has been shipped in accordance with the rules of the Association, any loss is incurred by reason of the buyer refusing to take delivery on the grounds that the goods are not as represented, then such loss shall be borne by the Association unless it can be proven that the shipper was guilty of deception. In such case, the loss shall be borne by him.

Every member shall be free to provide his own storage facilities where he is not satisfied with the facilities provided by the Association, but when the Directors provide such storage at the request of the member, the expense of such storage shall be borne pro rata by those using such storage or taking this risk, according to the amount of storage used by each.

Where sales can be made on contract at a premium in cases where any member agrees to provide satisfactory storage at his own expense and agree to deliver the goods at a certain date, then such sales shall be made at the request of that member having listed his stuff in that form.

In listing produce each member must agree to make delivery of the same at a shipping point before a certain date, and to make the management to make sales according to.

It must be considered as a standing rule that where such sales can be made in large quantities so as to bring expenses to a minimum such sales shall be made, and if in the judgment of the Directors sales can be made advantageously through a local agent, then such sales shall be made at the discretion of the Directors who may give him a release of same when such release does not interfere with sales made or under consideration or in any way injuriously affects the Association's prospects.

It being always understood that nothing herein contained shall prevent any member at any time, contracting with or supplying his goods to a Government pork packing plant. All labor and charges in connection with the storage or loading or shipment must be provided for by the individual owner.

Provision shall be made by the management for proper means of weighing all storage and shipments. Any expense of such weighing shall be charged against the goods weighed, and in making sales agreements shall be made with the buyer as to what weights shall be accepted.

Where the surplus of moneys are made of the stuff of two or more members, then shortage or surplus shall be apportioned among them according to the amount supplied by each.

Where bulkheads are used in cars the cost of these shall be borne equally by the members.

Twenty per cent. of the proceeds of all sales shall be paid over to the Association to be used for the purpose of making an advance payment. Ten per cent shall be retained which shall be deposited to the credit of the Association to constitute a fund to pay all expenses of the Association or any losses incurred.

If at the end of the term of six months when all accounts are balanced there is any money on deposit to the credit of the Association, it shall be paid out as final payment to the members of the Association pro rata according to the value of produce shipped by each. At the same time statements of all business shall be properly made out and each member shall receive a certificate of his share.

The Directors shall have power from time to time to alter, amend and make other general rules as or may require, but no such alteration, amendment or other rule shall remain in force or effect beyond the next general or special meeting of the members.

A member may withdraw from the Association at any time upon written application to the Directors for that purpose which application may be dealt with at the next regular meeting of the Board, and as soon thereafter as the same can be conveniently dealt with, and action on such application shall be taken without delay.

No withdrawal from membership shall release any member from any liability or arising out of any matter then being dealt with and no withdrawal from membership shall take effect while a member has any liability for sale.

Any person ceasing to be a member shall retain all his rights and privileges and interest in the Association but the same shall not release him from any obligation or liability arising out of any matter or thing occurring or connected with the Association during such membership.

A notice may be given by the Association upon any member either personally or by sending it through the post, to a full and complete address such member at his last registered place of abode.

Any notice served by post shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter containing the same would be delivered in the ordinary course of the post, and such service it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the same was properly addressed and put in the post office.

General meetings shall be held at such time and place as may be prescribed by the Association, and if no meeting or place is prescribed a general meeting shall be held not later than the first Monday in February every year and at such time and place as shall be determined by the Directors.

The Directors may convene a special general meeting of the Association whenever they think fit, and any member may call such a meeting upon a requisition made in writing by not less than one fifth part of the members of the Association.

Any requisition made by members shall express the object of the meeting proposed to be called and shall be left at the offices of the Association.

Seven days notice at the least, specifying the place, the day and the hour of meeting, and in case of special business the general nature of such business, shall be given to the members in the manner hereinafter mentioned, but the non-receipt of such notice by any member shall not invalidate the proceedings at any general or special meeting.

These rules, however, general rules may from time to time be amended, altered or new by-laws or general rules substituted, thereupon any member may call for a meeting for the purpose of specifying the nature of such changes which every member shall have (continued on last page).

The defendant claimed that the plaintiff should look to the seller for his commission on the horse and that he was not entitled to pay commission on the sale of land, as it had not been listed in writing as required by the statute of 1906. The Judge found on the evidence that McPherson had knowledge of Welliver getting a commission on the horse from the seller, and that defendant was entitled to pay commission for the sale of his land, but reserved judgment as to the law on the point of double commission. Subsequently he gave judgment for plaintiff for $84 and the costs. Moore & Durie for plaintiff; J. L. Crawford for defendant.

Mr. Pringle Assailed.

VIOLENT LIBERAL ATTACK ON THE YUKON MIS-SIONARY—HIS VIGOROUS REPLY.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Pringle controversy has been revived this summer by the fact that for some reason the Ontario Reformer has made repeated and vicious attacks upon the clergyman who, although a Liberal, was disgusted with the management of the Yukon. Mr. Pringle at last replied. A curious feature of the situation is the reluctance shown by the persons immediately behind the Reformer to accept full responsibility for the attacks. The Oshawa Vindicator, which defended Mr. Pringle, charged that the attacks had been written by Mr. F. L. Fowke, M.P. This the Reformer denied; and on the Vindicator pressing it, declared that its articles were written by Mr. H. Bodie, a former editor of a newspaper in Dawson, and a man who has come under severe strictures from Mr. Pringle. It is worth noting that Mr. Bodie at present is employed in the Liberal party to do journalistic work, so that the attack virtually emanates from the management of the Liberal party.

The assertions as to Rev. Mr. Pringle were substantially as follows:

1. That in his campaign for election to the Yukon Council in 1903 he attacked F. L. Congdon and J. T. Lithgow.
2. That after entering the Council he withdrew his attacks.
3. That while a member of the Council he exercised patronage.
4. That he staked a claim on Christmas Day last—and yet in his letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated he possessed no claims.
5. That while a member of the Council he took $200 indemnity to which he was not entitled.
6. Sundry insinuations as to Mr. Pringle's domestic circumstances.

Mr. Pringle's reply is on the following lines:

1. He did not attack Congdon and Lithgow in the campaign. "The only attacks I ever made on these men, prior to 1907, was in my letters to the responsible ministers at Ottawa. I sent twenty-one properly answered articles made by eye-witnesses, concerning one of them, telling in detail the story of the worst public indecency in the history of Canadian official life save, perhaps, the permanent indecency of the present Cabinet. The official guilt of it was sent back three months after the receipt of the affidavits with an addition of $1800 a year to his salary."
2. He did not retract his criticisms. He adds, however, "I am a Liberal and was not prepared to see falsehoods and crookedness in every thing done by a Liberal executive. It is true that his whole policy in the campaign, and I was not prepared to believe it would be, before the event."
3. He did not exercise patronage in the sense in which it is understood in party politics. He did ask that work be given to some needy old-timers.
4. His letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in which he stated he had no claims was written in May 1902. The staking of the claim took place on Christmas 1902, seven months later. Moreover, he did not work on the claim, did not sell it and does not own it, his claims having lapsed. I never bought a claim, sold a claim, worked a claim or made a dollar out of a claim while in the Yukon."
5. The circumstances as to his indemnity as member of the Yukon Council were that he left the district in February 1904, at a time when the Council was expected to sit in October and expected to return in time for that date. Instead, it was convened and met in July, notice being given his departure. He was entitled to $1,200 less $25 for each day's absence. Reckoned at this rate, the deductions from the salary would be $1,075, leaving a balance of $225, which he apparently would be entitled to claim. Expecting to be present, he had obtained an advance of $200. He spoke about the matter to Commissioner McInnes, and the Commissioner said, "I had no right to take the money, but I will let it go." In debate in the Council Mr. Lithgow, the Comptroller, admitted that he was entitled not to $200 but to $225.
6. On this point Mr. Pringle's words may be quoted: "I had no settled abode in the Yukon. My salary would not have sufficed for the needs of my family even had I been settled. I supported my wife and children in comfort where my boys and girls could get their education. I lived with my wife and children when on my visits to the outside."

It will be felt by most persons that, to mention the other matters, the confiding of the dates of the letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of the staking of the claim was not candid; and that to drag in a man's domestic affairs is very contemptible. When Mr. Pringle's terribly severe attacks were met by counter-charges of this nature they must be hurting.

Wheat Screening at Montreal

Danger of the Spread of Weeds Averted.

It is noted in the Census and Statistics Monthly that information was recently received by the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture that a cargo of wheat screenings were being shipped from Port Arthur to Montreal. On account of the danger in the spread of noxious weeds through carelessness in handling screenings of this sort, an officer of the Seed Branch was sent to Montreal to inquire into the disposition of the cargo. The analysis of a sample of the screenings showed that they contained 16.3 per cent wheat, 46.9 per cent seeds and 36.8 per cent straw. The weed seeds were represented by 29 different varieties, 11 of which were of the kind named in the Seed Control Act. It was found that the screenings were being offered for $10 per ton and would be sold either whole or ground into meal. A sample of the meal produced from the screenings when very finely ground did not contain any whole seeds, but as grinding is ordinarily done many of the weed seeds would be unharmed and would be carried to the land in a vital state. However, regardless of the grinding, it is evident that there is considerable danger of noxious weeds being introduced through carelessness in handling such screenings at local points where they may be delivered.

From Wetaskiwin to Winnipeg by C.P.R.

There arrived in Calgary about 11 p.m. Friday night the first train to be run on the new transcontinental line from Winnipeg to Calgary via Wetaskiwin and Saskatoon. It was a special consisting of three cars, and carried Vice-President Whyte, Sir Daniel McMillan, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, Chief Engineer Switzer, Superintendent Arundel, of the central division, T. C. Irving, of Bradstreet's, and Superintendent Niblock, of the Calgary district.

Mr. Whyte stated that the time of operation of regular trains over the new line could not be definitely set as yet. About 40 miles of road yet requires to be built, and a regular service could not be given till this was completed. Mr. Whyte hoped, however, that the first of the year would see the line in good running order. "The operation of the line would divert some traffic from Calgary, but it would not take enough from the C. & E. to render necessary the taking of any trains off that line."

WILD ELEPHANTS.

A Herd's Successful Raid on a Granary in Ceylon.

Some soldiers stationed at an outpost in Ceylon, says a Colombo paper, to protect a granary containing a large quantity of rice were sent off a few days ago to hunt a herd of elephants. Only two of the party remained behind. No sooner had the soldiers departed than a herd of wild elephants, which had long been hanging about the neighborhood, appeared in front of the granary. Its walls were of solid brickwork, very thick, and the only opening into the building was in the center of the roof, which was reached by a ladder. On the approach of the elephants the two men clambered up into a lofty banyan tree to escape injury. Screened by the thick foliage, though unseen by the elephants, they easily saw all that went on below. The gregarious animals began operations at the corners of the building. Two powerful elephants, after putting forth every effort, but in vain, to make an incision on the building, were forced to retire exhausted. A third came forward, and applying his tusks as levers, he at length succeeded in dislodging a single brick. An opening one meter, others of the same size, and soon an entrance was obtained sufficiently large to admit them. As the whole company could not be accommodated at once, they divided into small groups of three or four. After satisfying themselves they retired and gave place to others. The whole herd, upward of twenty, had made a full meal. By this time a shrill sound was heard from one of the elephants, and those still in the granary rushed out and joined their companions. One of the first divisions, after leaving the building, had acted as sentinel while the others were getting inside. It had perceived the troops returning from the village and gave the signal for retreat, when the whole herd, flourishing their trunks, moved rapidly into the jungle.

The soldiers found the animals had devoured the greater part of the rice. A bull from a fieldpiece was discharged at them in their retreat, but they only wagged their tails as if in mockery and were soon hidden in the recesses of their native forests.

DAYS OF THE WEEK.

At One Time They Were Designated Merely by Numbers.

Formerly the days of the week were numbered one, two, three, four, five and six, beginning with the Sabbath. Even now the custom still prevails among certain modern Greeks, the Slavs and the Finns. Many old-fashioned and orthodox Quakers, particularly in the north of England, still hold to this custom, which was the common one in the days of the apostles and down to the fourth century as well as usual among the Jews and the Arabs. The custom among the Quakers is a logical system in preference to the ordinary on the ground that the gods and goddesses, from whom the names were taken, were not of the highest respectability in point of morals.

The week was originally only a convenient quarter of the lunar month, hence it began on Monday, or moon day. The Italians still call Monday the first and Sunday the seventh day of the week. Tuesday is derived from the Norse Týr, who corresponded to Mars, the god of war, a most respectable person in the eyes of Quakers. Thursday was Thor's day, Thor being a god war who was morally no better than he ought to be. Wednesday, again, was Woden's day. Woden being the god of battle rage. The Romans called the day of the week Friday for the pagan Romans it was also the day of Venus, though the Christian Romans called it the day of St. John because Christ had been crucified on that day. Saturday was called after Saturn, and Sunday was known to the Christians as resurrection or sun day.

The week of seven days was imported from Alexandria into Greece and into Italy about the time of Christ. The Greeks had previously divided their month into sets of ten days, the Romans into sets of eight days, three and a half sets being equal to one month—New York World.

An Author's Initials.

Initials are sometimes the resort of the writer who is anxious to conceal his identity, and a glance through any one of the 700 volumes that comprise the catalogue of the British museum reading room will discover some strange instances. A theological book, entitled "Inquiry Into the Meaning of Demons in the New Testament," is attributed to T. A. P. O. A. R. L. C. O. S. Its real author was a certain Arthur Sykes, and the initials refer to his position as "the precursor and prebendary of Alton Boreas in the church at Salisbury."—London Chronicle.

The community of Red Deer is to be greatly favored for the next three weeks. The Rev. William Meikle, of Toronto, who has been the last quarter of a century, has been conducting special evangelistic services in all the large cities and in nearly all the large churches in the Dominion, is to be in Red Deer. Although a minister of the Presbyterian Church he has been engaged by different denominations, all of which have received wonderful blessing as the result of his meetings. The opening service of the campaign will be held next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock. There will be a meeting every night in the week except Saturday. It is earnestly hoped that every one who is interested in the quickening of the spiritual life of the community will enter heartily into this unusual opportunity. Every one is invited to come and hear the friend. Should the church prove to be too small a larger meeting place will be secured.

AN INTOLERABLE NUISANCE

Many persons who require glasses for distance and an additional correction for near objects put up with the intolerable nuisance of keeping track of two pairs of glasses, because they do not know that there are two vision lenses, or else because they have been prejudiced against glasses of this kind by poorly made glasses improperly adjusted. Our two vision lenses, the very best of scientific achievement, and when properly fitted and adjusted are not only a thing of beauty, but a joy forever. Let me show them to you.
